

HIGH-QUALITY RESEARCH & EVALUATION

The EdVenture Group conducts social science research from a diversity of scholarly and methodological perspectives which are built upon a foundation of extensive knowledge and experience in the study of primary, secondary, postsecondary, and higher education. Our education researchers are skilled in qualitative, quantitative, and mixed methods research, along with educational program review, evaluation of students, educators, and administrators, school culture surveys, data cataloging, and teaching and learning assessment. The scope of our research and evaluation initiatives may be customized based upon individual needs of schools, districts, or institutions.

The EdVenture Group's experience in research and evaluation includes institutional research and evaluation involving academic and student affairs, educator and administrator support, educational mentoring programs, school culture, and organizational evaluation and assessment. Our organization presents a unique set of competencies in our approach to research and evaluation, which include:

- Customized design of applied research projects
- Leadership in research, evaluation, and assessment initiatives
- Facilitation of customized research courses and workshops
- Guidance for best practices for research and evaluation
- Integration of research to yield improved performance
